FACING THE FUTURE

As you, the members of the Class of 1954, stand on the threshold of the future, you are probably beset by a mixture of high hopes, doubts and fears as well as a certain sense of achievement. The feeling of having accomplished one important milestone in your young careers is a well earned one. Many of you, however, are already looking forward to the next step and as you readjust your goal you are doubtless beginning to wonder.

What does the future hold in store for you in a world torn by wars and rumors of wars; a world held besieged by the Iron Curtain ideals of the Communists; a world held enthralled by the threat of Atomic weapons and hydrogen bombs; a world in which two-thirds of its teeming millions are hungry; a world bound together by supersonic speed and radar communication; a world in which disease is slowly being conquered by the use of atomic devices; a world in which democracy must protect the four freedoms of man, in short, a world of which you are about to become a very important unit?

It is inevitable that you will face trials and disappointments, competition, and failure on your way to success. But there are certain guide posts that will help you chart your pathway. First, you must realize that privilege and responsibility go hand in hand and one without the other cannot bring you happiness. Secondly, you must realize that each individual has equal worth and dignity and that each has his own particular niche to fill and that his contribution is essential, no matter how small it may seem. Third, you must set worthwhile goals for yourself and you must pursue those goals steadfastly, seizing every opportunity that presents itself, daring to dream while others criticize, and hoping, even when the chips are down. Fourth, you must devote your best energies to helping to achieve peace—peace in your own heart, in your own family, in your community, in your nation, and in the world. Fifth, you must never give up your inherent rights to freedom—remember there is no emergency so great, no crisis so overwhelming that free people need give up their individual freedoms. Finally, to give your life purpose and direction, you must choose as your guidelines those Christian principles of truth, morality, and brotherhood that have withstood the tests of 2000 years.

With courage and integrity and devotion to your ideals—the future is what you will make of it—and what you make of it will be bright and wonderful—and you need have no doubts nor fears. Just face it—forthrightly.

CLASS SONG

(Written to the tune of "Now Is The Hour.")

Farewell to old Northern High;
Now is the time that we're leaving.
Two happy years have gone by,
For your dear halls we are grieving.

Now is the hour, when we must say goodbye.
We'll not be coming back to Northern High.
While we're away, oh, we'll remember you.
In our careers, we hope our dreams come true.

CLASS WILL

We, the members of the Class of 1954, being of sound (?) mind and body and feeling that we are about to depart this life at Northern High School, do desire and wish to hereby dispense with our earthly goods to those we leave behind.

To the specific persons, institutions and charities stated, we humbly request that this will and testament, as herein provided, be honored and all beneficiaries duly received of the gifts we so willingly and wholeheartedly bestow upon them.

We the following do hereby will, bequeath and otherwise give; IVA JANE ALEXANDER to Gloria Yommer, her place on Student Council; YVONNE BAKER to Mr. Robeson's driver education class, her ability to get her driver's license; EDNA BEAL to Shelby Beal, her place as cashier in the cafeteria; JOSEPH BEITZEL to Eugene Savage, his "he-man" build; JUANITA BITTINGER to June Green, her love for Fords.

DONALD BOWMAN to Wesley Klotz, his ability to run the movie projector; WILLIAM BOWMAN to Don Wagner, his ability to cook; CARL BOWSER to Ken Groves, his ability to sneak smokes; ALICE BROADWATER to Catherine Broadwater, her ability to walk from Jennings to Salisbury and back; FAY BUTLER to Paul Beitzel, his ability to smoke during school hours and not get caught.

LORETTA BUTLER to Evelyn Brown, her ability to go down the hall like "greased lightning"; WILMA BUTLER to Audrey Ault, her girdle, to help slenderize her figure; WILLIAM CAPEL to Jack Frantz, his ability to get along with Mr. Fleming; CLARA CAREY to June Lee Corle, her ability to get a diamond; ESTHER CASTEEL to Aquilla Richter, her ability to go to the carnival.

MONA LEA COLLIER to Johnny McKenzie, her ideas on how to get out of class; LOIS DEWITT to Eloise DeWitt, her big brown eyes; DORIS DUCKWORTH to "Buddy" Speicher, her ability to walk fast; OTIS EDGAR to Allen Younkin, his ability to eat in Mr. Garlett's class; WILLIAM EMORY to Adrien DeWitt, his diet book.

ALLEN FRATZ to Bill Geohringer, his ability to talk to the girls in class; DALE FRAZEE to Mr. Cross, his "levi" dungarees; DONALD FRAZEE to Eugene Savage, his ability to drive trucks at night and still come to school the next day; EILEEN FRAZEE to Judy Umble, her ability to drive a car; ALICE FRIEND to Gloria McCullough, her ability to get in early from dates, especially the ones with Chuck Seighman.

DALE FRIEND to Kenny Groves, his ability to quit smoking; GAYLE FRIEND to Sarah Jones, her ability to work for the C & P Telephone Co.; ROBERT FRIEND to Earl Kahl, his ability to withstand bullets; ARZONA GARLITZ to Shelby Savage, her ability to flirt with Bobby Baker; ALLAN GEORG to Jack Frantz, his ability to play guard on the basketball team.

DONALD GLASS to any one Miss Speicher can find, his ability to be picked on and blamed for drawing pictures; ALICE GLOTFELTY to Aquilla Richter, her shorthand book; MARY GLOTFELTY to the future cheerleaders of N.H.S., her cheerleading ability; WAYNE GLOTFELTY to Wade Humberson, his blue eyes and blond hair; JOHN GOEHRINGER to Dick Stanton, his ability to chew gum in class without getting caught.

BETTY GOULD to Rita Buckel, her chemistry ability; MILDRED HARMAN to Eleanor Younkin, her knowledge of math, so that with combined abilities she can become a second Albert Einstein; RUTH HARMAN to Carol Jean Fike and her ever changing lovers, her place in the lobby after school; BARBARA HARSHBARGER to Dorothy Detrick, her shorthand book; DONALD HERSHBERGER to Jim Swauger, his ability to play right end on the soccer team.

DALE HETRICK to Forrest Jacobs, his ability to get out of snowy roads; KATHRYN HOYE to Shirley Yoder, her shyness; LAVONA HUMBERSON to Ruby Frazee, her ability to dance in the shop instead of working; FREDA HUTZEL to Patricia Miller, her ability to stay stout; CARL KAMP to Jim Bowman, his blond curly hair.

ANTHONY LAYMAN to Robert Baker, his ability to get the family car; DALE LAYMAN to Miss Speicher, his Studebaker, so she can get to school when her Buick breaks down; JAMES MEESE to Carl Durst, his ability to get a seat in Finzel's Restaurant; LOUISE McCROBIE to Nancy Mummert, her ability to eat candy and cookies in the Home Ec. room; CATHERINE McKENZIE to any one who needs it, her weakness for baseball players, especially catchers.

MARY MARGARET McKENZIE to Mr. Brown and his future basketball players, her speed-lined gym shoes; PAUL McKENZIE to Harry Miller, his ability to play goal keeper; WILMER MILLER to Rodney McKenzie, his ability to get the boss' pickup; VIRGINIA MINICK to Patricia Miller, her quiet laugh; JAMES MOSSER to Wayne Edgar, his Plymouth, to make a fast get away when in a tight pinch.

ROBERT MURPHY to Blaine Green, his ability to play basketball; CHARLES NUGENT to anyone who needs it, his ability to get along with the teachers; NORMA O'BRIEN to Elaine Nicklow, her thinness; DALE PAUGH to George Savage, his "healthy" complexion; ROBERT REICHENBECKER to Marlin Savage, his height.

DONALD RINGER to Reed Richter, his ability to play ball and to wear worn out sports equipment; DOUGLAS SCHROYER to Okey Friend, his ability to skip school and go hunting without getting caught; DOROTHY SHOEMAKER to Shirley Schlossnagle, her ability to be cashier at the Grand Theater; DELORIS SINES to Janice Sines, her consumer math book; BILLY SISLER to Clyde Savage, his position as fullback on the soccer team.

DONALD SMITH to Ray Beitzel, his comb; ANN STANTON to Marlene Folk, her ability to get along with the Fratz boys; SARA STANTON to Gail Kesner, her bashful ways with boys; NORMA TAYLOR to Paul Wilhelm, her large vocabulary that she often uses to get out of things; RICHARD TEATS to Dean Savage, his ability to be a hotrod driver.

EMOGENE UMBEL to Gail Savage, her ability to know the Burceton, W. Va. boys; HELEN URICH to Sue Loechel, her long hair; JACK WARNICK to Donald Mickey, his fondness for girls; BETTY WILBURN to sister Peggy, her ability to ride in Plymouth cars; JAMES DALE WILLIAMS to Jack Frantz, his motorcycle.

LAMBERT WRIGHT to Claude Humberson, his position on the basketball team; DONNA YOMMER to Beverly Beachy, her seat by the typewriter in Mr. Cobun's office.

To the Administration and Faculty, we leave all the peace and quiet that they will surely have after we are gone.

The Senior Class wills the North end of the second floor to the next graduating class, hoping that the dignity, sophistication, and the intellectuality so carefully observed by the present graduating class will remain a constant factor in the years to come.

To the Sophomore Class, we leave our ability to roam the halls.

To the Freshmen Class, we leave our ability to get through the cafeteria line quickly.

To the Eighth Grade, we leave the money in the general fund to buy a lawn mower to cut the new grass.

To the Seventh Grade, we leave our ability to stay out of trouble.

CLASS PROPHECY

We were interested in what the class of '54 would be doing in the coming years so we went to see Zella, the fortune teller. Ah-h-h as we gaze into her crystal ball the magic begins to work.

Before us we see Fairchild's with Iva Jane Alexander doing clerical work, and there is the Davis Auto Co. with Yvonne Baker as secretary.

The scene changes to a small town high school. Directing the gymnastics is our star basketball player, Dorothy Shoemaker, now a physical education teacher in this new high school.

Now we see two small cottages. As we look closer we see our old classmates Betty Wilburn and Edna Beal who are now Mrs. Harry Bowser and Mrs. Adolph Felsinger.

By the dark skinned natives we can tell it is South America. And of all things, we see our old friend Norma Jean Taylor as a teacher in one of the grass covered huts.

The scene changes to Bethesda, Maryland. As the picture grows plainer we see three of our old classmates, Gayle Friend, Catherine McKenzie and Mary Margaret McKenzie as telephone operators. We see there a bank with our three friends Louise McCrobie, Lavona Humberson and Lois DeWitt working as cashiers.

As the picture goes from Bethesda to Washington, D.C., we see Douglas Schroyer and Bill Capel working in the Secret Service for the F.B.I. Also we look around and find our friends Loretta Butler, Alice Glotfelty, and Norma O'Brien who are doing clerical work here.

As the scene fades another picture appears and before us we see a hospital. Two nurses are coming down the hall. We can tell by their friendly smiles that they are Juanita Bittinger and Sara Stanton. And there in the Doctor's office, we find another of our classmates, Barbara Harshbarger, as the Doctor's secretary.

The scene changes to the President's office where we see his secretary entering his office. As she turns, we see it is none other than Arzona Garlitz.

Now the country comes into view. Why look, we are in Finzel! And there in a large comfortable house, we find Virginia Minick, who is now Mrs. Blaine Hostetler.

Next we see Grantsville where James Meese is foreman of a big timber business. And now, look, it's Accident. There on two adjoining farms we find Ruth Harman and Donald Glass and their neighbors are Mona Lea Collier and Wilmer Miller. They have recently tied the knot. Now we see the Accident Stock Yard and we find Don Ringer has taken over the management.

Goodness, it looks like our old Alma Mater, Northern Hi. There in a classroom as Math teacher, we find a former student of this school, Mildred Harman. And there waiting to take her home is her husband, Richard Teats.

Now the scene goes to a boat on the Ohio river. Here we find Clara Carey who has just become Mrs. William Swauger. They have decided to take their honeymoon on a boat.

Appearing next is the city of New York. As we follow the crowd we find ourselves at the Yankee Stadium and here we find two of our classmates Allan Georg and Paul McKenzie, who are now star baseball players.

As we near the outskirts of town we see a housing project going up where we find our friend Dale Layman as head carpenter.

North Carolina comes into view. We see Ann Stanton as a secretary in a large department store.

Now we see a beautiful spot in sunny California. Here in an orange packing house we find Helen Urich and Freda Hutzel.

Next we see a city mansion where a party is in progress. As the host and hostess we find Carl Bowser and his wife, Mary Knox, who are making their guests feel at ease. It seems as if we recognize some of the guests. Why yes, there's Bob Friend and Charles Nugent who are working in Cleveland, Ohio.

As the mansion fades we see an office. A sign on the door reads: Wright and Frazee, Inc. Could it be — it is, our former classmates, Lambert Wright and Donald Frazee with Alice Friend as their secretary.

We see a Home Ec. class in progress at the University of Maryland. We recognize one of the girls as Mary Glotfelty.

As this picture fades we see a sign which says General Motors Inc. and guess whom we see inside behind the manager's desk? Yes, it's our old friend Carl Kamp. And we also find that Anthony Layman is head mechanic here. Here in Cleveland we also find Emogene Umbel working in a bank.

We see a girl coming down the street. Yes, it's Eileen Frazee. She is going into a big Super Market where she is president. She waves at a neat looking fellow coming down the street. He looks familiar, it is Dale Friend. Dale works in a steel mill.

Next, we see Bob Murphy, who is playing center for the Minneapolis Lakers basketball team.

The next picture's blurred, now it clears; it's Fort Knox, Kentucky, an army base. A group of G.I.'s are coming down the walk; two faces seem familiar. They are James Williams and James Mosser. Now we see an air force base and no, it can't be, but it is—the Commanding Officer, Captain and General, who are three of our classmates, Dale Paugh, Allen Fratz, and Donald Bowman. And there in the kitchen we find Wayne Glotfelty as head cook.

The picture fades back to the University of Maryland, where we find Dale Frazee teaching a Vocational Agriculture class. Now we see a Farm Bureau meeting. Leading the discussion is our old classmate John Goehringer with his assistant officers, Fay Butler, Bill Emory, Dale Hetrick, and Joseph Beitzel.

The scene changes to Baltimore where we see Alyce Broadwater working as a secretary for a big firm. We also see Robert Reichenbecher working in a factory.

Now the picture goes to Cumberland and we see a telephone office and who is chief operator, yes, it's Kathryn Hoye. Now we go down to the airport and whom do we see as an airline hostess, Esther Casteel. I guess she fell hard for the sweet little pilot.

The next picture clears, a red and white pole tells us it's a barber shop, established and owned by our friend and classmate, Jack Warnick.

Now we see State Teachers College in Frostburg, where Donna Yommer and Betty Jane Gould are now seniors.

It's the Meyersdale shirt factory coming into view now and we see Wilma Butler standing over one of the girls. We see that Wilma now holds the job as floorwalker.

The crowds disappear and we see a little rabbit farm in Grantsville. Here we find Donald Hershberger and his wife, Margaret, just feeding their rabbits.

We go from Grantsville to Bittinger where we see a big white building. We move closer and see a milk testing laboratory with our classmate Donald Smith testing the last load of milk that was transported to Bittinger from the William Bowman Milk Co. by Otis Edgar.

We see a store on Keyser's Ridge and guess who are the proprietors! They are Doris Duckworth and Billy Sisler who are now happily married.

We move now from Keyser's Ridge and go to Hoyes, where we find that Deloris Sines is working.

The crystal ball clears and Zella tells us that our adventure is over for now.

CLASS HISTORY

The first time the Junior class met was when our new school, Northern High, opened on September 4, 1952.

October 16-19 of that year, the Maryland State Teachers' Convention was held in Baltimore where Donna Yommer and Margaret Foltz participated in the All-State Chorus.

October 31 brought the election of class officers. They were: President, Lambert Wright; Vice President, Donna Yommer; Secretary, Mona Lea Collier; Treasurer, Juanita Bittinger and Historian, Sara Stanton.

January 21 brought the crowning of the F.F.A. Sweetheart Queen with Arzona Garlitz participating from the Junior class. Serving as escorts were Donald Smith, Bill Sisler, and Ross Clemmensen.

February brought much excitement: the measuring for our school rings; the dance we sponsored called "Cupid's Caper" and the induction of five of our class members into the National Honor Society. They were: Clara Carey, Mildred Harman, Sara Stanton, Norma Jean Taylor, and Donna Yommer.

May 4, we received our school rings.

May 21, the crowning of the May King and Queen was held in front of the school. Alice Friend and Donald Ringer were Junior class attendants.

May 29, the Junior class gave a Prom for the Seniors.

September 8, 1953, we began our year as Seniors. Our sponsors were Miss Kathryn Speicher and Mrs. Elaine Wise.

During the month of October, the following Seniors were chosen to serve on the Year Book Staff: Dorothy Shoemaker, Virginia Minick, Yvonne Baker, Mona Lea Collier, Juanita Bittinger, Lois DeWitt, Don Smith, Louise McCrobie, Catherine McKenzie, Wayne Glotfelty, and Arzona Garlitz.

Also during this month, the Magazine Campaign was held with 12-2 being declared as high home room in sales.

On October 30, the National Honor Society elected officers. They are: President, Sara Stanton; Vice President, Clara Carey; Secretary, Donna Yommer; Treasurer, Mildred Harman; and Publicity Chairman, Norma Jean Taylor.

November 2, the Senior class officers were elected: President, Allan Georg; Vice President, Carl Kamp; Secretary, Dorothy Shoemaker; Treasurer, Wayne Glotfelty; and Historian, Sara Stanton.

November 3, cheerleaders were selected. Those from the Senior class were Mary Glotfelty, who is captain, and Ann Stanton.

December 4 and 8, senior pictures were taken by Ward's Studio.

February, we ordered our name cards and announcements and were measured for our caps and gowns. Also we received our pictures. The Polio drive was held with 12-1 collecting the most money.

March 2. New members were inducted into the National Honor Society. They are: Dorothy Shoemaker, Arzona Garlitz, Juanita Bittinger, Mona Lea Collier, Barbara Harshbarger, Iva Jane Alexander, and Anthony Layman.

May 27, the Junior class honored the Seniors with a Prom, which was enjoyed very much.

June 4, class night was held; Sunday, June 6, sermon was held; Monday, June 7, Graduation took place with Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss as the speaker.

And now we will end the History of the Graduating class of 1954.
